

BIOFICER ABILITIES

Famous and Faction Admirals may take additional Abilities from the following table when building your lists. Each Famous and Faction Admiral will state the amount of additional Abilities they may take. You can only take each Ability once per list.

COST	EFFECT
1AP	Good Fight, We Should Do It More Often: If a friendly Group's attack would cause an enemy Group to be completely removed from the table, the friendly Group may immediately turn up to 45 degrees.
3AP	Maddening Communiqué: At the start of the Activation Phase, pick an opponent. That opponent's Abilities cost 1 additional AP to use until the end of the round.
2AP	Forcing an Unfair Fight: At the start of the Activation Phase, pick a Dropsite you contest. Add a friendly Battalion to each Feature on that Dropsite. At the beginning of the Cleanup step of the End Phase, remove a friendly Battalion from each Feature on that Dropsite.
2AP	Precision Strike: When you assign a Group's weapons to targets, pick one of the attacking Group's Weapon Systems. Improve the Lock of that Weapon System by 1 for this attack sequence.
1AP	Prismatic Surprise: At the end of the Planning Phase, you may swap the attached Payloads of two Porter Ships with the same Porter value.
3AP	Unsportsmanlike Behaviour: During this round's Cleanup step of the End Phase, all players retain any unspent AP from this round into the next round. In the next round, only players that have used this Ability this round can generate AP from Admirals in the Planning Phase.

BIOFICER ADMIRALS

BIOFICER ARDENT

ADMIRAL LEVEL 1 – 25 PTS

COST	EFFECT
*	This Admiral may take 1 additional Ability from the Bioficer Abilities Table.
2AP	Backpedal: At the start of a friendly Group's activation, pick any friendly Group. You may move each Ship in that Group up to 3" directly backwards.

BIOFICER ACCUMULATOR

ADMIRAL LEVEL 3 – 65 PTS

COST	EFFECT
*	This Admiral may take 1 additional Ability from the Bioficer Abilities Table.
2AP	Gravitic Manoeuvring: When a friendly Group is given a Max Thrust Order, it may turn as if it was on General Quarters.
1AP	Kinetic Deconstruction: When a friendly Group makes an attack with any number of weapons with "Decon" in its name, those weapons change their Type to Kinetic until the end of its activation.

BIOFICER DEPLOYABLE FEATURES

PTS	TYPE	ES	KS	SPECIAL
15	Genitor Tower	4+	4+	-

This Feature may be purchased for your fleet when you build your list. It must be assigned to a Ship with the Porter special rule as if it were a Ship with the Payload S-1 special rule.

When one or more enemy Battalions on this Dropsite and its Features are removed for any reason, place 2 friendly Battalions on this Dropsite regardless of the number of Battalions removed or Genitor Towers on this Dropsite. If these Battalions are gained through Battalion Combat, they are placed after Battalion Combat.

When this Feature is destroyed, it contributes its points to the Kill Points of the opposing player that destroyed it.

Only ship of the class: The Melder

Nicknamed by lucky survivors, The Melder became a feared lone wolf among Bioficer raiding parties. Its favoured victims were larger foes who didn't feel as threatened by a vessel of its modest size as they should. No other ship was known in this configuration, so the Admiralty assigned its guiding Intelligence the designation Anode. This individual was entirely unsubtle and clearly had access to superior technology over its peers.

It featured an enhanced superstructure and power matrix, upping it to heavy destroyer tonnage.

All this supported a single, prow weapons system: the Themator Cage. Quite different in form to regular thermators, this was as devastating as most battleship primary armaments, albeit only at close range. This led to the vessel's destruction at the hands of the UCMS Gaugamela over Olympus in early 2679. However, reports of an identical vessel and characteristic behaviours followed weeks later, forcing the Admiralty to conclude that this Intelligence had successfully transferred out and potentially has several of these unusual vessels at its disposal.

This Ship may take a Torpedo Upgrade for +20 points, gaining the following Launch Asset:

LOAD	LAUNCH	SPECIAL
Torpedo	2	Limited-4

One of the first nightmarish Bioficer battleships encountered, the Binary is built around a colossal, spinal-mounted Grand Bisector. This weapon is already infamous for neatly slicing cruisers in half with a single, silent discharge. Like most Bioficer battleships, it can be upgraded with Genitor Torpedoes and can carry a single Supercell into battle.

This Ship may take a Torpedo Upgrade for +20 points, gaining the following Launch Asset:

LOAD	LAUNCH	SPECIAL
Torpedo	2	Limited-4

The Brutal class battleship is built around the terrifying Giga-Winnower, a weapon of awesome, indiscriminate lethality. When unleashed at full force, it projects coruscating tsunamis of molecular deconstructive power, reducing multiple targets to random chunks. Like all Winnowers, its weakness is its short range, making extreme aggression an enjoyed necessity for the intelligences that direct this massive ship

The Bastion class battleship is built around the massive Gravitic Hyperlance. This weapon projects a thin tunnel of massively undulating gravity, pulling and shaking a cylinder of hull to pieces while arresting the target for further abuse, should it survive at all. A Thermitor battery augments this ship's already awesome destructive power.

The Blackbird is one of the new enemy's most awesome, maxed-out vessels. The extreme and frankly insulting effects of the Grand Bisector are already, regrettably, well known, but once augmented with multiple other weapons this vessel becomes a top-tier threat. Its Scythes, Thermator, and boarding pods are bad enough, plus it can be further upgraded with Genitor Torpedoes.

TORPEDO UPGRADE

This Ship may take a Torpedo Upgrade for +20 points, gaining the following Launch Asset:

Much like the Blackbird is an up-gunned version of the Binary, the Bishop super battleship shares the primary armaments of the Brutal class. It sacrifices some thrust to add a Thermitor and boarding pods while retaining the option to add Genitor Torpedoes and a Supercell. Fully equipped and upgraded, this is a terrifying opponent at close quarters.

Consistent with the enemy’s other super battleships, the Binder is effectively an up-gunned, slower derivative of the Bastion class. Its devastating, mixed armament is a primary threat to any vessel. Like other Bioficer super battleships, it features a greater offensive crew compliment to fill its boarding pods, making boarding actions against this leviathan a foolhardy endeavour.

The Zodiac is the most frequently encountered Bioficer dreadnoughts, although all sightings are thankfully rare, so far. These hellish leviathans pack an array of ship-killing weapons, starting with a pair of Decon Annihilators. Moving downwards, a secondary hardpoint will accept any battleship primary armament as a secondary aboard this monster. Towards the stern is typically a quad battery of Scythes. Lastly, a spinal flight deck is open to the void, ready to unleash waves of lethal bombers or nimble fighters. Nothing less than another dreadnought can hope to survive an encounter with this monster.

In 2679, the Zenith class Bioficer dreadnought is the most dreaded close-action vessel in known space. In several early engagements with admirals who didn't appreciate what they were facing, a single example chewed through scores of capital ships and emerged victorious. The Zenith's primary prow armament is the Giga Lightvice. This weapon's fanged maw emits a biblical level of atomic destruction capable of rending a battleship in seconds. Like its cousin the Zodiac, the Zenith's prow-ventral hardpoint will accept any battleship primary armament, although on a dreadnought this is merely secondary. Tertiary armament is typically a quad array of Thermators—another weapon which does its killing up close. Completing the Zenith's offensive suite is a substantial, exposed spinal flight deck.
